BACK STAGE

Ezra Stone once operated his own stock company on Lake George . . . And, believe it or not, he never saw the place once during the two years that he ran it . . . He was too busy acting in New York . . . Ezra knows how to pick the hits . . . He was in "Three Men On a Horse," "Brother Rat," and then "What a Life" . . . Not to speak of his hit Henry Aldrich radio show that has taken over Jack Benny's spot on the air waves . . . Martin Branner, who draws Winnie Winkle for the funny papers, seldom misses an Ivoryton show . . . And Sidney Kingsley was here last week to see Madge Evans. They're to be married very shortly . . . Sidney wrote "Dead End" which was a big hit here a couple of years ago. . . . Incidentally all of the youngsters who played in that show at Ivoryton have made good in Hollywood as the Little Tough Guys. They are: Dave Gorcey, Hallie Chester, and Gabriel Dell . . . Judie Parrish was visiting in Iowa when Milton Stiefel called her back to play in "What a Life" and "Primrose Path" . . . Muriel Campbell, here all last season, will be along soon for several bills . . . Dick Adams, who sells you your tickets, was the treasurer at New York's Center Theatre all winter, handling the seat sale for "The American Way" . . .

If you think your own family is funny, you'll get a new slant on them when Mr. Stiefel presents "Primrose Path" next week.
